

From: Larry Boler
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/24/02 1:05pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

When are end consumers like me finally getting a break from everybody choosing the chicken way out in competing with Microsoft, who has done more to steering and developing technology and industry standards to the benefit of consumers than anybody else.

New, calculated and unjustified litigation by AOL is just another attempt to undermine previous settlements. It's high time the courts let the consumer decide by simply choosing the better product.

Larry Boler